For the purpose of accomplishing this, the colt should have absolute rest during the first three years of his life, always excepting that gentle and necessary exercise, always conducive to a healthy condition. There should be no forcing, no undue straining or exertion. The laws controling growth and decay within the animal and vegetable kingdoms are immutable, and in proportion as maturity or developement is hastened, in that proportion will early decay or loss of vigor result. In the direct application of this law to horses, Stonhenge the great English authority says, "If the breeder has his attention drawn to the production of colts which shall at two years of age be fermed like old horses, and be fit to compete with them for short distances it will always

A Plea for a Broader View.

The agriculturist must learn the lesson which we have so often urged, that it is not by doing everything himself that money is to be made. No one man can do all things well. When he resides far in the country he must depend on some one else to sell for him. He may say let us form an association to sell our own; but it is the same thing. Associations require time I had not seen my friend Anna since I was married, so last summer I persuaded John to take me to visit her. We started bright and early one morning in June, and arrived at Anna's a little before noon. She met us at the door and held me close, as she said, "In spite of that tall John you are still my Bessie." John said if she claimed me he was included, for now we were one. She laughed and said she would think about that.

As there are only herseif and Joe in the family, Anna does the house-work, and after a few moments she left us to look after dinner. She soon called us out into the cool, pretty dining room, where the table was neatly spread. Our long ride had given us fine appetites, but the bread was heavy and sour, the meat overdone, and the vegenheavy and sour, the meat overdone, and the vegenheavy and sour, the meat overdone, and the vegenence and ways be found in every community. Prompt Action of the Government,

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13th.
The Secretary of State yesterday on receipt of the dispatch announcing the wholesale execution at Santiago de Cuba telegraphed to Consul General Hall at Havana to instruct the Vice Consul at that port to inquire into the matter, and to enter an earnest protest against the haste of the trial in the face of the erders rages as must lead to hostilities between this country and Spain, it will undoubtedly authorize him to raise and equip a sufficient force of volunteers to enforce such measures as may be decided on. It is believed that a call for volunteers would be responded to by a large number of veterans of the late war from all parts of the Union, and competent army officers within the haste of the trial in the face of the erders of the Spanish Government for delay until a full examination could be made into all the facts attending the capture of the Virginius.

Mr. Hall replied that the Vice Consul had already protested in the strongest terms against the proceedings, but that his action was seriously obstructed by the Spanish officials, all the averues of communication being closed against him.

Immediately on the receipt of Consul General Hall's dispatch the Secretary of State instructed Minister Sickles to enter with the Spanish Government a strong protest against the Spanish Government a strong protest against the Spanish Government a strong protest against the Spanish Government to have held decided on. It is believed that a call for volunteers to enforce such measures as may be decided on. It is believed that a call for volunteers would be responded to by a large number of vieterans of the late war from all parts of the Union, and competent army officers say that no better material could be found in any country in the world.

Admiral Porter says that the question now at issue between the United States and Spain was not respecting the insuft to our flag. The Virginius was sailing under regular papers; she had got into waters other than those of the United States, and was captured. It was the duty of the Spanish Government to have held

If she had violated any law this one of the points about which there is such solicitude is the position of the Virginius when she was captured. The first dispatch to Secretary Fish said she was captured six miles from the coast of Jamaica, while at about the same time a dispatch received at the British legation said the capture took place in British waters. The President is restrained by the Constitution and laws from making war on Spain by attacking her colonies. All that can now be done is in the way of correspondence with the Madrid Government. The official papers are to be laid before Congress for such action as may become the dignity of the nation in the vindication of its honor and the full protection of its citizens.

The Government, however, is in the meanwhile making preparations to meet all the issues which may arises even if they should require force, and this fact is apparent in the present naval movements. The Kansas has been ordered to Santiago de Cuba and will be commanded by Commander A. V. Reed. The marines were seven minutes killing the wretched prisoners, and seemed as if they would never finish. At last the sailors marched off, and the troops filed past the long row of corpess. Then the dead carts were hurried up and loaded indiscriminately with the mangled remains. The American Consul has done all that could have been done. Indeed it was threatened that his exequator would be withdrawn for his exertions in behalf of the prisoners. In an interview with Gen. Burrill, that officer yelled at him and otherwise treated him disrespectfully. The British Consul also made an ineffectual protest against the executions. Hack, Hack, Hack! Cough, Cough. Cough!

Cough is a symptom by which various diseased conditions of the throat, bronchial tabes and langs manifest themselves. But whether it arises from the irritation produced in the throat and largax by taking cold, from an attack of Bronchitis, from in-pipent Consumption, or from various other causes, nothing will allay it more speedily or cure it more permanently than Dr. Pierce's Medical Discovery. It does not matter whether it be a recent attack, or a lingering cough, the Discovery is an either case equally well adapted for its relief and permanent cure. In fact, it will cure a cough in one half the time necessary to cure it with any other medicine, and it does it, not by drying it up, but by resorving the cause, subduing the irritation, and healing the affected parts. No time should be lost in commencing the use of a proper medicine for the relief of a cough, for unless this course is pursued, serious and dangerous disease of the lungs is liable to result.

SCHENCE'S PULMONIC SYRUP.

Are the only medicines that will cure Pulmonary Consumption.

Sometimes medicines that will stop a cough will often occasion the death of the patient. It locks up the liver, stops the circulation of the blood, hemorrhage follows, and, in fact, clogging the action of the very organs that caused the cough.

Liver complaint and dyspepsia are the causes of two-thirds of the cases of consumption. Many are now complaning with dull pain in the side, the bowels sometimes cestive and sometimes too loose, tongue coated, pain in the shoulder-blade, feeling sometimes very realtess, and at other times drowsy; the food that is taken lies beavily on the stomach, accompanied with acidity and belohing of wind. These symptoms usually originate from a disordered condition of the stomach or a torpid liver. Persons so affected, if they take one or two heavy colds, and if the cough in these cases he suddenly stopped, the lungs, liver and stomach clog, and remain torpid and inactive, and before the patient is aware of his aituation, the lungs are a mass of sores, and ulcerated, and death is the inevitable result.

Schenck's Fulmonic Syrup is an expectorant which does not contain any opium, nor anything calculated to cheek a cough suddenly.

Schenck's Seaweed Tonic dissolves the food, mixes with the gasteric juice of the stomach, digests ensity, neurishes the system, and creates a healthy circulation of the blood. When the bowels are costive, skin sallow, and the patient is ef a billous habit, Schenck's Mandrake Pils are required. allow, and the patient is of a billious habit, Schonck's fandrake Pils are required.

Claims abandoned by other Attorneys, and those rejected through the neglect of Attorneys to prosecute them successfully within five years from date of alling, particularly solicited,

Claims for Increase of Pension prosecuted. Many solidlers disabled in the late war are receiving less pension than they are entitled to under the Pension Laws. Intermediate rates have been established by Congress between $8 and $18, and a large portion of those who are now drawing an invalid pension of $8 per month are entitled to a higher rate, and can obtain the same by applying to me.

Write, describing disability, and stating the rate of your pension, and by sending postage stamp you will receive prempt reply. Widows of officers are now entitled to $2 per month in addition to what they now receive, for each child of officer.

probably never before fell to the fot of any man, are given in full. No person should be without these valuable books.

"Valuable Books.—We have received the valuable medical works published by the Peabody Medical Institute. These books are of actual merit, and should find a place in every intelligent family. They are not the cheap order of abominable traish, published by irresponsible partile, and purchased to gratily coarse tastes, but are written by a reasonable professional gentlemen of eminence, as a source of instruction on vital matters, concerning which lamentable ignorance exists. The important subjects presented are treated with delicacy, ability and care, and, as an appendix, many useful prescriptions for prevailing complaints are added."—Coss Republican, Lancaster, N. H., Sept. 7, 1870.

"The author of these books is one of the most learned and popular physicians of the day, and is emitted to the gratitude of our race f r these invaluable productions. It seems to be his aim to induce men and women to avoid the cause of those diseases to which they are subject, and he tells them just how and when to do it."—Farmington Chronicle, Farmington, Mr., Sept. 7, 1889.
